Seventeen Are Killed And Ten Badly Hurt

Kans., Oct. 9.—Seventeen were killed and ten severely injured in a collision between a passenger train and a construction train near here yesterday. The passenger train, four sections and two brakemen, and all Mexicans, are at the scene. Topeka and Santa Fe is believed some of them were injured.

Condition of Crew of Schooner Kate Feore

THUR. Tex., Oct. 9.—A schooner, the Kate Feore, was dismantled and with the crew above the water, as she was being towed by the Gulf Company's tugboat, the Kate Feore, from Mobile to Galveston, when she was wrecked. The schooner was left in the water, and the crew were in the hospital. The schooner was washed overboard and a second

Joseph Corey on the freight jumped as soon as the air brakes could be set. The Mexicans were not aware of the danger until the engine and trainmen jumped and then it was too late for many of them. The engine on the freight ran over four of the flat cars comprising the work train and almost a score of men were pinned down, and it was several hours before they were extricated. It is said the wreck was caused by the crew of the work train disregarding orders. You may find what you are looking for through a want ad. in The Sun.

SEA ISLAND COTTON.

Savannah Market Firm With a Hardening Tendency.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 9.—The Sea Island cotton market has been firm the past week with a good demand at hardening prices; the inquiry was for all grades as being received. Nothing choice is yet coming in on the present crop. Sales were liberal, and the market closed firm.

Crop accounts are about the same. The census report showed 13,826 bales ginned up to Sept. 25, against 11,457 last year. This increase is attributed to the rapid opening of the crop in Florida, and is not indicative of a correspondingly large yield. The Georgia crop is turning out well on the acreage. The South Carolina crop is said to be materially under last year.

There are again complaints of the Savannah trade being handicapped by under-selling of the interior.

Sales for the week, 2,539 bales.

BRIDGE WORKMEN SHOT FROM AMBUSH

Lawless Act in Bradford County of Which Oscar Crews and Chas. Thomas Are Charged.

Last Friday night while some negroes working for the Roanoke Bridge Co. on the erection of the new steel bridge across New river were cooking supper at their camp at the south end of Long Bridge, a voice suddenly called out of the darkness, "Are you the niggers that work on the grade?" One of them, who was in the act of frying some bacon, with the frying pan in his hand, turned around to see who was talking and received a load of shot in the left side of his face, and then another in his side. He hurriedly dropped the frying pan to run, and got a load of shot about eight inches below the small of his back. The much peppered darkey ran into the swamp, followed by a white who, in the act of baking a hoe cake, had been peppered almost as bad, and several others who escaped without injury. Nine shots had been fired in quick succession.

Mr. McCain, the superintendent, and Mr. Johnson, his assistant, ran to the scene of the shooting as quickly as they could, but could only get a glimpse of the marauders. Mr. McCain told Mr. Johnson to take a buggy and go to Lake Butler for a deputy sheriff. While Johnson was gone McCain heard a rumbling noise and then a splash from the direction of the middle of the bridge, and when Johnson came back he told him to drive with as little noise as possible and he "might see something." Johnson obeyed the directions and after crossing over to the north side of the river saw two men dodge from the road into a thick growth of trees. He drove into the shadow of a large tree and stopped, and after a few moments saw the two men cross the road. He then drove on to Lake Butler and told Deputy J. B. Dowling what had happened.

It seems that Oscar Crews and Chas. Thomas, young men of the neighborhood, who had worked on the bridge, but had been discharged, had openly uttered threats against the company. Deputy Dowling suspected them of having done the shooting and drove to Jesse Cason's, where the young men boarded, having in the meantime been joined by Mr. McCain. One of the shooters seen by the latter had on a long coat, and such a coat was hanging up in the room in Cason's home where Crews and Thomas were found. The pockets were searched and revealed several loaded shells of the same caliber and size of shot, No. 7, as some empty shells that had been picked up at the scene of the shooting, as well as some bolts and nuts that had been taken from the new bridge. On these suspicious circumstances Deputy Dowling arrested Crews and Thomas and Sheriff Langford, who arrived later, brought them to the county jail in Starke.

John Skelton Williams In Control of Seaboard

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The reorganization committee of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, at a meeting yesterday with the board of directors, increased the directorate to nineteen members. Three, directors, Thomas F. Ryan of New York, Major J. H. Doley of Richmond, Va., and William A. Garrett of Norfolk, Va., were not re-elected.

The following were elected to fill their places and the three positions created: L. F. Loree, John B. Ramsey, John Skelton Williams, J. William Middendorf, Franklin C. Brown and Hennen Jennings.

As at present constituted the board has apparently a preponderance of members friendly to John Skelton Williams, between whom and Thomas F. Ryan there was a contest for control some years ago.

The annual meeting of the company will be held November 11 and until then, it is understood, nothing will be done toward electing a president to succeed W. A. Garrett, who resigned that office, and also as general manager, when he retired from the directorate last summer.

Mr. Williams was former president of the railway and Mr. Middendorf was former vice-president.

Messrs. Williams, Ramsey and Jennings were members of the committee which formulated the plan for the adjustment of the company's affairs.

Incendiary Fire Causes Four Deaths at Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 9.—In connection with a fire, in which four persons were burned to death, two negroes were arrested on suspicion. The fire was in a brick dwelling house.

The dead: Mrs. Dora Fishman, aged 24. Miss Rosie Fishman, aged 14. Miss Rachael Markeson, aged 15 years.

Mrs. Rosa A. Fishman, aged about 50 years. Moses Fishman was seriously burned.

The fire broke out while occupants of the house were asleep. So great a headway had it gained when discovered, and so intense was the excitement caused by the horrible screams of women, that no organized attempt at rescue was made until after four fire companies arrived on the scene.

In spite of heroic efforts to enter their apartment in the face of flames bursting from the windows every member of the Fishman family but one perished. Miss Rachael Markeson, the other victim, lived in the same apartment.

The negroes arrested were Jim Butler and George Harrison, who had been hanging about the building. They were known to have had trouble with J. A. Thues, a grocer, who occupied the ground floor.

ESKIMOS WERE WARNED NOT TO LOOK FOR COOK

AND PEARY'S ACTION NEARLY CAUSED DEATH OF FORMER.

So Dr. Cook Says in a Letter Written to Explorer Bernier of Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 7.—Captain Bernier, of the Canadian steamer "Arctic," made public a letter written to him by Dr. Frederick A. Cook on May 23, and delivered to Captain Bernier on September 1 at Upernavik, Greenland.

Peary Accused of Stealing Supplies.

The letter opens:

"My Dear Captain: I have to write you the first letter after having been sealed behind ice barriers for two years. It was your supplies, so kindly left in charge of Mr. Whitney, which aided me greatly in getting to Upernavik. All my other property has been taken by Peary under the guise of a relief station for Dr. Cook.

"Murphy, the man in charge of the station, however, was instructed not to engage in any relief efforts, not to allow Eskimos to cross and search until March of the following year, 1909. My large stores of supplies and my station were used for barter with natives to satisfy Peary's commercial greed.

"Fortunately, we were able to work out our problem without relief efforts except as you offered. We have pushed into the Boreal center and picked up the polar prize, but the effort was dangerous beyond conception.

"The splendid assistance which you have given and the liberality of the Canadian government in sending the ship is a happy contrast to the hindrance and injustice of one of my own countrymen."

The Journey to the Pole.

Describing the journey to the pole, Dr. Cook said:

"Starting from Annotook on February 19, 1908, we crossed Ellensmere Land, pushed along its western coast to the polar sea, feeding ten Eskimos and 103 dogs en route on musk oxen and bears.

"From 82 north I started with but two young Eskimos and twenty-six dogs, pulling two sleighs and supplies for eighty days. The ice was fine after crossing 84 degrees. Crocker's Land was sighted and passed, and a new land found to the north of it extending to 85 degrees. Beyond, no land was seen. The pole was reached April 22, 1908. The return was forced slightly westward on the northern route, but about 85 degrees we drifted east and south. Below 84 we had drifted with an active pack.

"We were helplessly carried to the west, unable to reach our caches along Nansen Sound. We were pushed into Prince Gustave sea with food and fuel exhausted. Still unable to press eastward, we went with the ice to the south, food and fuel now exhausted. Polar bears came to our rescue as life-savers. We then went into Wellington channel, hoping to be able to reach whalers in Lancaster Sound, but we were soon stopped by failing food supplies and young small ice. With no game, this short route to an early ship was no longer possible, and to satisfy the pangs of hunger we worked to Jones' Sound.

Forced into Winter Camp.

"Here, after a long run of hard adventure by boat and sledge, a cruel necessity forced us into winter camp in September at Cape Sparbo, without fuel or food, ammunition or winter clothing, with no dogs, no guns. Our situation was almost hopeless, but fortune came our way. Bows and arrows, harpoons, lances and other implements were made. The musk oxen and bear were taken with lines. The lance and knife secured us small game. Foxes were trapped, walrus

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver, or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

and seals attacked and secured in our little folding canvas boat. An underground camp was built and the winter of 1908-1909 passed with a taste of everything save fresh meat.

"For we had not a morsel of civilized food, not even salt. A new equipment was devised and as soon as the sun of 1909 rose over the hills of North Devon we started for Annotook in February, 1909, dragging dried musk oxen meat as food and melted tallow as fuel for thirty days, on our sledges. Deep snow, bad ice, open water and continued storm made the return slow and arduous. We reached Annotook after a run of hard luck on April 5. Here we were met by Whitney only to find that Peary's men had misused our station with its equipments over the protest of Mr. Whitney. We enjoyed good health at all times."

HAS ANOTHER FREAK.

Capt. Shehee of High Springs Ahead of Them All.

Capt. W. G. Shehee of High Springs, who runs a fruit and produce business, and also a small menagerie, has just added a new freak in the shape of a pig which is destined to bring him in some money, for he proposes to send it to some place where an admission will be charged.

The pig has seven toes on the left forefoot, six on the right, weighs forty-five pounds, and has other peculiar marks which brand him a curiosity. He is now in communication with Jacksonville and thinks that a good sale will be made.

His 'gators, gophers, rabbits, 'possums, snakes and the like, form quite an interesting collection, and he is continually adding to them from time to time.

Imperfect Digestion

Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion, infuses new life and vigor to the whole system. 50 cents a bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The "wets" have filed a protest with the commissioners of Dade county against the calling of a wet and dry election, charging fraud in the securing of the petition by the temperance people. The special committee to which the matter was referred have recommended that no election be called, as many irregularities were found in the petition.

Gainesville People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys ex-crete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding.
The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of Any one of these symptoms is warn-

Col. Blount Visits Gainesville.

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

Col. W. A. Blount of Pensacola was a most welcome visitor to The Sun office yesterday. Col. Blount is visiting the more important towns of the State in the interest of his candidacy for the United States Senate, and is making a good impression with the people. He is regarded as the ablest lawyer in Florida and is universally beloved by the people of West Florida, where he is best known. At the unanimous request of the Democrats of Escambia county he served four years in the State Senate, declining re-election. The people of Gainesville were glad to have the distinguished gentleman spend the day here, and extended him a cordial welcome.

By a special invitation from President Murphree, Mr. Blount delivered an impromptu speech before the student body after chapel exercises yesterday morning.

WORK OF REMODELLING IS TO COMMENCE NEXT WEEK.

Modern Conveniences to Be Placed in Building and Rooms Will Be Enlarged.

Work on the changes to be made in the A. C. L. passenger depot are to be commenced next week, and it will require some time to make the alterations and rebuild the office according to the new plans.

The new passenger station will be fitted with all of the latest improvements. The white and colored sides are to be divided, having separate doors for entrance and exit, with toilet rooms sufficient to accommodate the travel.

This building will be enlarged, for considerable space is to be taken from the freight department, and the ticket office will be placed farther in front from where it now stands. Doors will be placed in the front of the building on either side where the windows are now located, and doors will also be placed in the sides. The present large double doorway will be closed and the ticket office placed in the front part, opposite the old open-

Archie Jackson returned Thursday

Millions of Stomachs Refuse to Do Their Work Properly.

All over this broad land millions of stomach owners are being held in humiliating subjection just because they are so stubborn that they will not accept a fair, square and broad minded offer.

Life is short for all of us; it will be shorter for those who let their stomachs go from bad to worse.

J. W. McCollum & Co. have a famous prescription called Mi-na and they believe so thoroughly in its remarkable curative power that they say to every owner of a distressed stomach that they will guarantee Mina tablets to cure acute or chronic indigestion and all stomach ailments or money back, and the price is only 50 cents a box.

And still there are stubborn people right in Gainesville who won't accept this offer but continue to suffer from gas on stomach, belching of sour food, stomach pains, foul breath, disorder, biliousness and headaches just because—just because—that's all,
there is no other reason.

Mi-na tablets stop dyspepsia agony in five minutes; they cure obstinate cases of indigestion and turn the old stomach into a new one in a few weeks—or money back.

...PREPARING FOR CANE-GRINDING...

By C. K. McQuarrie, Florida Agri. Experiment Station
Press Bulletin No. 125

The proper preparation of the cane crop for grinding cuts quite a
be allowed to grow as late in the season as possible. There is often rivalry among farmers in certain communities as to who will have the first of the season's syrup on the market, and the crop is often cut weeks ahead of the time it should be cut. Syrup made from immature cane is of an inferior quality in every way. We have then a poorer quality in the first syrup on the market than we get later on when the crop is properly matured. Throughout northern and western Florida, the middle of November is early enough to cut the crop. Should a slight frost occur before that time it will not damage the cane for syrup-making purposes.

Stripping

Stripping can be done any time after the first of October, and any odd time at the farmer's command can be devoted to the job. There are several good tools for this purpose on the market, and if the acreage is large it pays one to buy these; but for the ordinary cane patch on most farms, a piece of hoop iron will be found to do good work. All dead leaves should be completely removed up to the first immature joint, and particular care exercised that everything in the shape of trash be completely cleared away from the roots, so that the stalks can be cut very close to the ground; for the sweetest part of the cane is that next the ground.

Topping

This operation has quite an important bearing on both the quality and quantity of the syrup. If we cut close to the mature joints and leave no green joints for grinding, we are apt to be troubled with sugaring of the syrup. The green or immature joints contain glucose which tends to prevent this sugaring, so one or two immature joints should be left when topping. The number of green joints left depends on the length of the canes.
As a general rule to go by, one may leave a green joint for every ten matured ones, on ordinary-sized canes.

Cutting

When we come to the cutting, we want to use a sharp tool that will make a clean slanting cut. Why slanting? Because if otherwise the butt of the stalk will be more or less splintered, and if laid away for some time before grinding, that joint will have some sour sap in it, which we do not want. The ordinary cane knife is not a good tool for cutting down cane, in that it can not cut close enough to the ground. A light well-sharpened hoe will be found the best for this purpose, and handled by a man who knows how to use it, will do excellent work. There should be two hands working together, one cutting down the canes, and the other removing the cut canes out of the way. This saves time.

Windrowing

What is meant by this expression is the laying away of the cut cane in rows or piles to wait until grinding time. Quite a number of our syrup-makers do not practice this—they grind as they cut. But where a large acreage is grown, it is impossible to get enough help to keep the cutting and grinding going at the same time; so the crop has to be laid away and covered up with leaves and trash to keep out the cold. In laying it away, unless the crop is an extra heavy one, piles containing about 600 canes each are recommended, laid as smoothly as possible, and well covered to protect them from frost.

Grinding immediately after cutting is not to be recommended, let the crop be large or small. Syrup made from cane laid away for a month or two is superior to that made from new-cut cane. The sap seems to mature, and it takes less of it to make syrup. For instance, it will require ten gallons of sap from newly cut cane to make one gallon of 34 degree syrup; while seven gallons of sap, from cane windrowed for two months, will make one gallon of syrup of a superior quality to the other, providing the cane has been thoroughly protected from cold weather.

In woman we may admire beauty, and pay homage to her talent, but virtue is her crown. With it she is rich though she live in humble circumstances, and without it she is poor though she live in a palace and has the dowry of a princess.

A lady prominently identified with the suffragist movement is credited with the prediction that a woman will be elected President of the United States within the next twenty years. Just fancy any woman placing herself on record as being thirty-five years or over. The Constitution saves us.

Columbia University authorities are naturally astonished by receipt of a document in which the father of a freshman announces that he has delivered his son to them on a contract calling for the return of a duly qualified "A. B." and "LL. B." at the end of six years. They can furnish instructions, but they cannot furnish brains.

The postoffice department is requiring recipients of general delivery mail at the offices in large cities to furnish their names and addresses, with signatures for future identification. This rule is adopted to check use of the mails for improper purposes. The postal service has been used as a substitute for the "personal" advertisements most reputable newspapers now bar.

The immense temperance parade in Chicago was an encouragement to every lover of decency, happy homes and good order. It was all the more significant in that it was held in a city that has an unenviable reputation for vice and drunkenness. It convincingly showed that there is a powerful element making for individual and civic righteousness, and that with that element politicians will more than ever have to reckon.

Mr. Hearst has got to run for mayor of New York again, whether he wants to or not, says The Savannah News. An interesting circumstance in connection with New York politics is how that man Hearst has grown on the town the past few years. It hasn't been so very long since a great many safe and sane New Yorkers looked upon the exotic from California as a most undesirable citizen and dangerous person. They used to frighten their children when they were naughty by threats that Hearst would catch them if they didn't watch out. To their minds there was only one evil influence beyond Hearst—the chap that Lewis Morrison made famous. Now some of these same staid old conservative New Yorkers are sitting at Hearst's feet and eating crumbs out of his hands. It's a droll world, gentlemen!

THE SECOND DISTRICT FIGHT.

From all appearances it looks as if the voters of the Second Congressional district of Florida will have all that's coming to them in the primaries next year, in the shape of one of the most spirited Congressional campaigns in the history of the State. There has been a decided opposition to the present Congressman from that district for some time, and his political opponents have decided that 1910 would be the best year to return Frank Clark to private life.

This decision on the part of Mr. Clark's opponents appeared to be unanimous, but having so easily settled this question his opponents were next confronted with one that it appears is not so easily settled. In the selection of the man to oppose the present Congressman there has been a difference of opinion.

Editor Lewis W. Zim of St. Augustine was the first to announce his candidacy for the position. He was followed closely by Mr. Prouty of Miami, and now comes the announcement from Jacksonville that Ion L. Farris, late Speaker of the House of Representatives, would be a candidate. On top of all this the announcement comes from Tallahassee that R. Hudson Burr, chairman of the State Railroad Commission, will later enter the lists.

If all of these gentlemen stand by their announcements and "take to the woods," as Mr. Farris suggests, there will be no lack of interest in the Congressional campaign in the Second.

Of all the men mentioned there is not one that can cope with the present Congressman on the stump, and it is not probable they will agree to meet him in joint debate. Zim and Prouty will probably resort to the "still hunt" program, while it is possible that Farris, and Burr, if he should enter, would attempt to meet Clark in joint debate, and we believe that "meet" would about express the result of such meetings.

Another advantage that is given Clark in this line-up is that the three announced candidates against him all hail from one wing of the party in the State, and will necessarily, to a great extent, divide that vote, while he will receive almost the solid vote of the opposing faction—Pensacola News.

COTTON CROP RETURNS.

Progress of cotton picking during the first twenty-five days of September, including only twenty-two working days, added at the rate of $6,320,000 a day to the wealth derived from that crop alone. This is probably the most remarkable record in the recent history of cotton growing.

There remain nearly three months in which to complete the picking, and if similar progress is made even for another month or two the South will have vastly enhanced its purchasing power over that of the corresponding period in any recent year preceding this one. Only in one earlier season, when the country had one of its largest yields of cotton, had ginning advanced so far as in the current season, which places the total thus far at 2,562,388 bales.

Apparently the season is not a backward one. Ginning establishments, of which there are some 27,700, must have been in a high state of activity during the whole of the month of September. Georgia to the date of report showed a larger number of bales than during any of the preceding four years, except in 1905. Texas, where 1,057,876 bales were ginned, exceeds all previous records, the highest of which was in 1906, when 1,008,856 bales were reported to September 25.

The favorable showing of ginning returns is largely offset by a most unfavorable condition report. In fact, there is something highly irreconcilable between the ginning of 2,562,388 bales of cotton by September 25 on the one hand and a condition report of 58.5 per cent. The latter figure would indicate an extremely small crop, whereas the ginning total seems to forecast a fairly good yield. The market is generally convinced that the condition report rather than the ginning figure is the better index to the actual situation. The cotton grower is less disposed to show his hand in the holding of his crop, while the spinning interests profess to believe in a lower level of fibre prices. Between these two lines of valuation the position of the cotton crop is still undefined within rather narrow limits. A crop of 11,000,000 bales is fairly well assured and but few people can be found who are confident of as much as 11,500,000 bales.

he had wired ex-Sheriff Purvis, of Lake City, who owns some clever hounds, to come to the scene. He arrived Saturday morning and, although the arrest had been made, the hounds were put to work in order to verify the suspicions. They were started from where Mr. Johnson had seen the men cross the road the night before, and the trail took them to Cason's house.

Saturday morning it was discovered that the shooting was not all the damage done. A car used for transportation of material had been dumped into the river and a drill press was missing.

The preliminary examination was to have been held by County Judge Thos. J. Dekle Tuesday, but the young men waived arraignment and were put under a bond of $500 each to appear before the fall term of the circuit court, which convenes in Starke Monday, October 25th. They gave the bond readily and were released from custody.

The troubles of the bridge company were not ended with the episode just described, for at noon Sunday their store house containing material and tools was destroyed by an incendiary fire. The damage is variously estimated from $1,000 up. Miles Crews, brother of Oscar Crews, was suspected of having set the fire and was arrested, but no evidence against him could be found and he was released.

All the young men involved in the unfortunate affair are well known in their section. The Crews boys are sons of former State Senator Crews and Thomas is a son of the late Newton J. Thomas.—Starke Telegraph, Oct. 8th.

DOUBLE HOMICIDE AT LAKE BUTLER FRIDAY

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

J. H. Parker, traveling representative for the Gainesville Hardware Company, on Friday shot and killed Arthur Ritch at Lake Butler after Ritch had shot him first, the ball taking effect in his lungs.

From what could be learned, it seems that Parker, who had finished his labors in working the town, had visited a cool drink stand near the depot, when he met Ritch. The two became involved in an argument which soon became spirited, and it was not long before forcible language was used, but friends of the parties interfered and it was thought the matter was over with.

Later it seems that Ritch became dissatisfied and intercepted Parker just as he was nearing the Coast Line depot, and without warning pulled his gun and fired, the ball taking effect in Parker's lungs and liver.

As soon as the wounded man could do so, it was stated that he pulled his gun and began firing, the first ball taking effect in the breast of Ritch, which was followed by three other rapid shots, all of which entered his body.

Parker was picked up and placed on a stretcher and a physician summoned, who, after looking at the wound, placed the man on Coast Line train No. 40 and carried him to Jacksonville, but expressed the opinion that he would hardly live to take the trip.

Both parties have the reputation of being among the quick tempered ones, always eager to resent what they termed an insult. Ritch is the son of a prominent citizen of Starke for a long time was engaged in mercantile business at Lake Butler but the past few years he engaged principally in buying and selling horses, often getting them droves from the West.

Parker, who is a new citizen of Gainesville, was formerly of Starke but for the past few years has been in various portions of the State for many years in the employ of the railroad company, acting as a brakeman. He resigned his position to remove his family to Gainesville, and later accepted a position with the Gainesville Hardware Company and was doing a business for them on the road.

Arthur Ritch lived only a few days after being shot. He was a favorite among a number at Lake Butler and leaves a wife and three children to mourn his demise.

Parker Dies En Route.

Information was received at city Friday night that Mr. Parker while en route to Jacksonville

Parker is a young man and a wife and four children to mourn his death, the family now being on Church street, where they moved from East Gainesville. The deceased also has a mother living in this city, and a brother is at present in South Florida. Remains were taken on to Jacksonville, where they will be prepared for shipment to this city, but no arrangements had been made as to where they will probably be buried. Bronson, where the deceased's father, Capt. Staff Parker, for many years was a contractor on the Seaboard, is

Horrible Death of a Levy County Boy at Inverness

The Citrus County Chronicle gives the following account of the death of a Levy county boy: "A horrible accident occurred here yesterday morning (Sept. 30.) about 7:30 that cast a gloom over the entire community. C. C. Hale, lumber inspector for West, Coffee & Co., at that time met his death in a peculiar and distressing manner. Mr. Hale was engaged in checking up a carload of lumber, and was inside the car. Three loaded cars of lumber were turned loose at the mill to run down the spur and intersect with the Coast Line. A freight train of the main line was headed in on the spur to pick up the lumber cars, when they collided. The lumber in the car where Mr. Hale was working slid to the front, crushing somewhat mutilating his body and also breaking his neck.

"The car was unloaded and was found, showing that death was instantaneous. As the Coast Line was running at good speed, the cars loaded with lumber were running fast, the impact was a thing terrible.

"Deceased was a young man, parents reside in Williston. His body was taken for burial yesterday. His sister, Mrs. J. Q. Thompson, here. He was a member of the O. W., and had made many friends in Inverness."

Judge Locke's Important New Ruling in Bankruptcy

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 8.—Judge Locke has made an important change in legal phases of bankruptcy through a recent order which was received and filed yesterday morning. His ruling is to the effect that in cases where application is made for adjudication of bankruptcy of an unmarried man, and between the time of filing the application and the adjudication the defendant marries, he will be entitled to the same exemption as if he was married to the application.

This construction of the law is a new feature in bankruptcy rulings, but will give to the debtor greater latitude when such cases are entered. This is the second exemption in bankruptcy law to be made by Judge Locke in the past few weeks, and shows he is giving great attention to this kind.

Editor of Waycross Herald Is Killed By a Live Wire

WAYCROSS, Ga., Oct. 7.—A. P. Perham, Jr., editor of The Waycross Herald, was instantly killed in an electric storm of violence, that swept over this place yesterday, destroying telephone and telegraph wires and throwing live wires about the streets. A number of horses, some of them fine animals, met instant death in coming in contact with the wires, while danger was everywhere. The death met death except Mr. Perham, who was killed.

Mr. Perham was on the way to the office of the Southern Press Company when a wire fell from a pole struck him. He fell to the street dead. Mr. Perham was one of the best-known men in the section, having been in the newspaper business here for years.

GREAT INTEREST IS CENTERED AT MEETING

CITIZENS ALWAYS ALIVE TO CAUSE OF EDUCATION.

Court House Was Packed Friday Evening to Hear Addresses of Speakers.

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

The educational rally which has been mentioned frequently in the local columns here for the past few days was a grand success in every way, and the large assemblage present Friday evening at the court house to hear the question discussed is an assurance that education is alive in Gainesville.

Among the more prominent speakers who were here last night, and who had traveled a great distance in order to be with the Gainesville people and assist them in their meeting, was Senator D. U. Fletcher of Jacksonville, and Dr. Tribble of Columbia College at Lake City.

State Superintendent Holloway, who is ever on hand to advance the educational interests of the State, was here and was made to feel good at the manner in which his old home city came to the front in this most important question.

It was regretted that Governor Gilchrist was unable to attend this meeting, and while he made every effort to get here, he was delayed at Quincy on some other matters, but he is interested in the work and will meet with the Gainesville people at a later date.

Another important fact that the educational rally on Friday night aroused the old interest in Gainesville in educational matters is the quick way in which the ladies took up the matter, and following the session, which lasted for some time, they at once organized and made arrangements for other meetings which are to be held and the question thoroughly agitated. This will be the second organization of its kind in the State, and much good will doubtless result from the meeting.

Dr. J. L. Kelley, superintendent of county schools, presided over the meeting and gave some interesting facts and figures concerning the advancement in school work in the county, and stated that while the increase had been most satisfactory, it had not compared with the increase in population.

State Superintendent W. M. Holloway followed the remarks of Dr. Kelley and, as on all former occasions, the head of the State educational interests was found to be at his best on this subject, and gave some very interesting information which will materially assist the workers for this cause in Gainesville and Alachua county. The remarks of Superintendent Holloway were heartily received and he elicited the closest attention of his hearers.

Capt. G. M. Lynch, who holds the chair of secondary education in the State University, was the next speaker in order, and the manner in which he handled the question showed that he was thoroughly familiar with the subject. He took up the aims and purposes of the meeting and discussed them at length, dwelling particularly upon the fact that the time for action was now. Capt. Lynch requested that the ladies meet and organize, and with their assistance much good was sure to result from the meeting.

Dr. A. A. Murphree, president of the State University, was at his best on this occasion, and while he has been a resident of Gainesville only a short while the citizens fully realize that he is the right man in the right place at the University, and they now feel more satisfied than ever that the institution is bound to progress under his able management. The address of Dr. Murphree was filled with many important points and was closely listened to by the audience.

Dr. W. H. Tribble, president of Columbia College, was present and made a short and most interesting address on the question of education. His remarks were timely and highly appreciated by his hearers.

Dr. Thaxton, dean of school of education at the University, addressed the meeting, stating the importance of the work that had been outlined, and he hoped that much good would result from the steps that had been taken.

While he was not on the program as one of the speakers, Hon. W. A. Blount, candidate for the U. S. Senate, was present and, after being called upon, addressed the meeting. He at once outlined the importance of the question and said he would give his influence and time to further the interests of education whenever called upon by the people to do so.

Hon. D. U. Fletcher, U. S. Senator, was one of the main speakers of the occasion, and at this time he showed that he had given the matter some thought, for his remarks were highly received by those present.

Col. R. E. Davis responded to repeated calls, and in a few well-chosen remarks fully endorsed the propaganda as it was submitted by the learned speakers, and stated that in behalf of the citizens of Gainesville he felt justified in stating that this city would ever be found alive and working for the interests of education. Since the early days, and in the time of the old East Florida Seminary, Gainesville was looked upon for her educational advantages, and the people in this day and time would maintain that high reputation.

Congressman Frank Clark was next called upon. He fully endorsed the movement and felt that it was proper at all times to advance school interests. This is the first movement ever made in the history of the State in this line, and he felt that it could and would bring results with the assistance of the dear ladies, and he knew that was ever coming from Gainesville. As is always the case, Congressman Clark's address was one of the most interesting delivered, and while it was only impromptu, it proved to be full of interest, and he closed by stating that his adopted home would fully maintain the high and noble reputation it had made in being among the first to advance education.

A telegram was read from the ladies of Marianna stating that an organization had been perfected as the Ladies' Educational Association as a result of the big rally held in that place on last Tuesday night, as they desired to be recognized as the first of its kind in the State.

A Banquet

Spread before you would do you no good if you couldn't eat. What good can food do a child when as soon as it enters its stomach it is eaten by worms. That's the reason your baby is ailing, cross, pasty-faced and thin. Give it White's Cream Vermifuge. It will expel the worms and act as a tonic for the child. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

A fatal accident occurred at the Pace mill, at Pace, Santa Rosa county, Monday afternoon, when Foreman O. A. Knauff, of the planing mill, was scalded by escaping steam to such an extent that he died early Tuesday morning. The deceased was about 45 years old and came to Florida only a short time ago from Biloxi, Miss., where his family now resides.

Your cough annoys you. Keep on hacking and tearing the delicate membranes of your throat if you want to be annoyed. But if you want relief, want to be cured, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all druggists.

If it's printed stationery you want The Sun office is the place to get it.

Tickling in the Throat

"Just a little tickling in the throat!" Is that what troubles you? But it hangs on! Can't get rid of it! Home remedies don't take hold. You need something stronger—a regular medicine, a doctor's medicine. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral contains healing, quieting, and soothing properties of the highest order. Ask your doctor about this. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Constipation positively prevents good health. Then why allow it to continue? An active liver is a great preventive of disease. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. What does your doctor say?

DR. N. D. PHILLIPS.

Beautiful Tribute to One of Gainesville's Best Citizens.

Dr. Newton DeKalb Phillips, whose remains were laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery on the 7th inst., had practiced medicine in Gainesville for thirty years, only retiring from practice about five years prior to his death. He was one of the most skillful surgeons in the South, and one of the pioneers of advanced surgery in Florida. He was at one time president of the State Medical Association of Florida, and his opinions have ever been held in the highest esteem by his colleagues throughout the State. He was a born physician, and brought to the aid of his skill, confident, genial manners that inspired confidence in his patients, and gave them courage to fight disease. Blessed with a fine physique, straight, tall and handsome, he was regarded as one of the most strikingly distinguished looking men in the State.

Though devoted to his adopted State of Florida, and keenly interested in anything pertaining to her welfare, Dr. Phillips was a native of Mississippi, having been born in Hines county, that State, May 30th, 1835, and while still a child removed with his parents to Jasper county, same State. In 1860 he graduated from Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and at the outbreak of the Civil War entered the Southern army as battalion surgeon, Smith's Battery, Army of Tennessee, participating in many of the most sanguinary battles of the war, among them the great battles in the vicinity of Chattanooga. He was a fine conversationalist, and many who enjoyed his intimate acquaintance will remember his graphic description of those stirring scenes.

Dr. Phillips was twice married. His first wife, who was Miss Annie Jordan, lived but a year after marriage; and he was again married in 1869 to Miss Kate Jordan, who survives him. Five children were born of this marriage, and but two are now living—

Mrs. C. B. Wilmer of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Lemuel R. Woods of Tampa, Fla. He is also survived by nine grandchildren. Other relatives in this State are: Mrs. W. W. Hampton and family, Mrs. C. J. Richards and family, and the family of Mr. B. F. Jordan.

Few men who have lived in Gainesville were so universally loved and respected as Dr. Phillips, and the closing of the business houses of the city that all might attend his funeral ceremonies was an evidence of that love and respect. For more than thirty years he was a familiar figure on the streets of Gainesville, one of her leaders, and one of her most distinguished citizens. On every page of her history in those years his name will be written, and always in letters of gold. During the yellow fever epidemic of 1888 he gave his services as a physician, and was also a member of the board of health. While ministering to others he contracted the fever and came near losing his own life.

A consistent Christian, he was very prominent in church work, and was for many years vestryman and junior warden of Trinity church.

For several years he had been in failing health, and a recent accident, resulting in a broken hip, hastened his death, which occurred at the residence of his son-in-law, Wylie Travis, in Jacksonville, on the 6th inst. Fortunately, nearly all the immediate members of his family were present in his last moments.

Thus ends the mortal career of a good man who cherished the highest ideals and lived up to them; who never shirked a duty; who, though gentle and sympathetic as a woman, became masterful in time of stress, and who, having lived a clean, beautiful life, approached his end.

"Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him And lies down to pleasant dreams."

If its worth more to someone else than to you—no matter what it is—a want ad will be a good investment.

Sheriff Ramsey kindly assisted the woman, having known the family for several years, who he says are industrious and orderly citizens of the neighborhood.
